

Chic Brooks of Hapyco Lofts Passes Away at 97

August 15, 2023

From Drew Lesofski:

Chic Brooks, a legend in pigeon racing, has passed away at age 97 in Fresno, California. Along with Brad Laverne, Chic co-founded Hapyco Lofts and was known for his White Bandits, De Klak, and Van Loon families. He imported some of Europe's finest sprint birds, such as the "White Bandit," achieving countless wins in various races over the next three decades.

His dedication to the sport and his work with the birds of Hapyco Lofts have left a lasting impact. Chic will be remembered as a visionary and dearly missed by many.

To Chic's family and loved ones, please accept my deepest condolences during this difficult time. May his legacy continue to inspire and may he rest in peace.

Sincerely,

Drew Lesofski
The Loft Report